To: Town Council <Council@byramtwp.org>

I am writing to you concerning the recent council meeting involving the highlands ordinance. I was not at the meeting but I read about it in the paper and have listened to audio of the meeting. I want to say how disappointed I am in the way councilman Luaces acted. I understand and agree with his right to question councilman Olsons involvement on this issue and can even respect the fact that he disagreed with the town lawyers interpretation of the law but I do not feel that his actions were acceptable. There must be a better way to follow up with a disagreement than this.

I do not know enough about the Highlands Act to comment on the Act itself but from what I heard and read, there are some opposing views on the council. After listening for about 15 minutes I still don't know much about the Highlands Act but do know that I don't care for Mr Luaces style of governing. All five members were elected by the people and when one or more decide they don't want to participate because they did not get their way, then the whole process suffers. I think all five members bring different qualities and qualifications to the council and would expect each one to live up to the job they were elected to perform.

Thank you,
John Miller
